

Boot & Bonnet

GOOD AFTERNOON, QCC!!!

Here we are at the beginning of February, and as all of us MINIs turn our thoughts to the ones we love, I'm sure the same thing comes to mind for all of us... "WHY DO THEY HAVE TO USE SO MUCH SALT ON THE ROADS, AND HOW DO I GET IT OFF MY MINI?!!" Salt has the potential to do a lot of damage if left on your MINI's paint and undercarriage and must go, so here are some simple steps. First off, for those of you who use an automated car wash, pay the extra for the underbody wash to get the salt off of the underbody and suspension components. Easy peasy. For those of us who prefer to hand wash, take a little extra time during the winter months. You won't regret it. Even though actual salt is water soluble, what is used on the roads is a chemical mix that is a bit more robust to stay in place on the road. That makes it stay on our cars, too. Take time in the wheel wells flushing out as much salt and debris as possible. There are actually underbody sprayers available online that roll underneath and do a pretty good job. A $40 investment can save a lot of money and grief in the long run. Spend extra time with the hose on the initial rinse to get as much of the visible solids off the paint as possible. Anything still visible can put microscratches and swirls in your finish as you wash. Mix your bucket as usual and start at the roof and work down. Flip and resoak your mitt/towel often to keep it gliding. Rinse as you go, top to bottom. When finished, change out your wash bucket and start over. Once you see what came off the car on the first pass, you'll be glad you did. Don't forget the door frames and sills. Dry everything thoroughly, even under the bonnet. And don't forget to show your MINI some extra love on Valentines' Day. An oil change is nice. Maybe a tire rotation. And don't forget... MINIS LOVE BLING!!

So, on to a bit of business... As you're probably aware, our annual January Planning Meeting was cancelled due to that virus that shall remain nameless. In years past, the group interactions at these Planning Meetings has been the source of a major percentage of our Events calendar for the coming year. But alas, this one just wasn't meant to be. QCC, as with all similar clubs and organizations, has struggled to maintain meaningful interaction with our membership with ZOOM virtual meetings and e-mailed surveys. In the case of 2021 events planning, the recent survey will largely be the basis for the schedule of the upcoming Motoring season.

Operating in this fashion is certainly "not our style" and it's not the optimum form of communication for a group such as ours. I can't wait to get back to warm handshakes and hugs and seeing smiling faces unimpeded by masks and conversations without the awkward pauses of videoconferencing, but this is what we have for now and the foreseeable future. Again, we've proven without a doubt that QCC can produce Motoring events safely, but we need your input and contributions of time to make them happen and get the schedule filled. As awkward as they are, I urge you to login with us for the ZOOM Motor-Ins or contact members of the QCC Executive Board directly to make your voice heard. 2021 is what we make it. LET'S MOTOR!!!

In the meantime...

CHEERS!! and MOTOR ON!!!
